

NCC VOLUMES ONE AND TWO THE BUILDING CODE OF AUSTRALIA

Group Exercise Handout

EXERCISE 1 – Building Regulations

QUESTION 1

Why does Australia have building regulations?

QUESTION 2

What is the National Construction Code (NCC)?

QUESTION 3

Is the NCC part of the law and do I have to comply with it?

QUESTION 4

Who produces the NCC?

EXERCISE 2 – NCC, A PERFORMANCE BASED CODE

QUESTION 1

What is a Performance Solution?

QUESTION 2

Why would I want to include a Performance Solution in a building design?

EXERCISE 3 – NCC APPLICATION

QUESTION 1

What types of building work need to comply with the NCC?

QUESTION 2

There are State and Territory regulations, Council regulations, the NCC, Australian Standards and other rules. How do they all fit together?

EXERCISE 4 – CLASSIFICATIONS

QUESTION 1

What do the building classifications represent?

EXERCISE 5 – NCC COMPLIANCE STRUCTURE

QUESTION 1

What parts of the NCC are mandatory?

QUESTION 2

NCC Volume Two contains “Acceptable Construction Practices” – what does this mean?

EXERCISE 6 – DEFINED TERMS

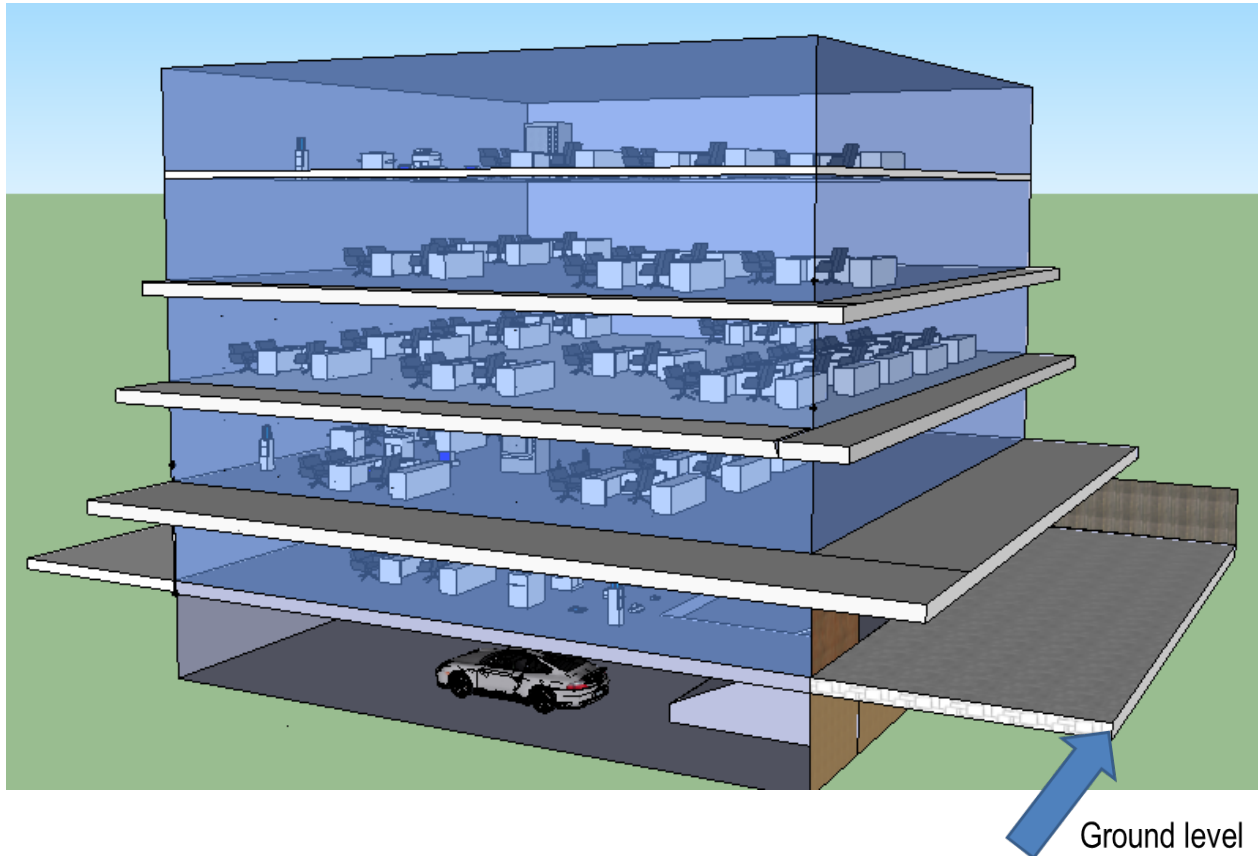

QUESTION 1

Why does the NCC have some of its text in plain type and some terms that are written in italics?

EXERCISE 7 – NCC VOLUME ONE

Determine the requirements for the proposed office building and its car park.

PROPOSED OFFICE BUILDING AND CAR PARK

QUESTION 1

What is the Classification?

QUESTION 2

What is the rise in storeys?

QUESTION 3

What is the type of construction?

QUESTION 4

What is the maximum fire compartment size for this building?

QUESTION 5

If the office building accommodates 200 employees split evenly between male and female, how many sanitary facilities would be required?

EXERCISE 8 – NCC COMPLIANCE

QUESTION 1

If I want to incorporate a Performance Solution into a design can I do it myself or do I need to use a specialist practitioner?